ATTENTION!!!

I can't find more chapters (chp 17 onward), so I'll stop translating this manga and i'll work on AkaAka from now on (check @ProjectManga on Twitter for infos). Anyway...

If you can find chapter 17 onward in Chinese, please share them with me so I can keep translating

thank you for reading

CINEMA
Now Showing
The Lizard of Monomi
komaeda!
ah! it seems that the screening has ended komaeda! can i have my questionnaire back, please

how to say it
if it does not challenge common sense, it can't be called art!
it wasn't anything like a motive.. it was disappointing on so many levels the last few minutes felt like weeks. the content was so boring that it was almost a torture is there anything to question about?
of course I'd be willing to pay!
I-is that so...?
if you could avoid seeing it by paying 150m, what would you do...?
komaeda... just asking but aah if I could've paid money to avoid this experience I would've gladly done so *sticker says "sorry for being born an idiot" it's nothing ..don't mind it a sticker for 15m?
that's right! that's right! hinata here spent 150m to buy this monokuma sticker in order not to see it. he's so stubborn

i still haven't found any clue to get away from thisplace by the way, hinata, are your exploration of the new island going well?

not really...

how is that "hope"? you're planning something against us again, right?
i just know that the only thing i can do now is doing my best hinata ...you must not give up!

no matter what kind of despair is in front of us we must keep moving forward because this is the attitude "hope" should have!

kuzuryuu's condition is also worrying even if we make no progress here, we don't know if he will manage to come back...

because the defeated that despair called "pekoyama's death" and, turned it into a nourishment for hope...
don't worry, kuzuryuu will surely come back then i'll go checking the electric town now you bastard..!

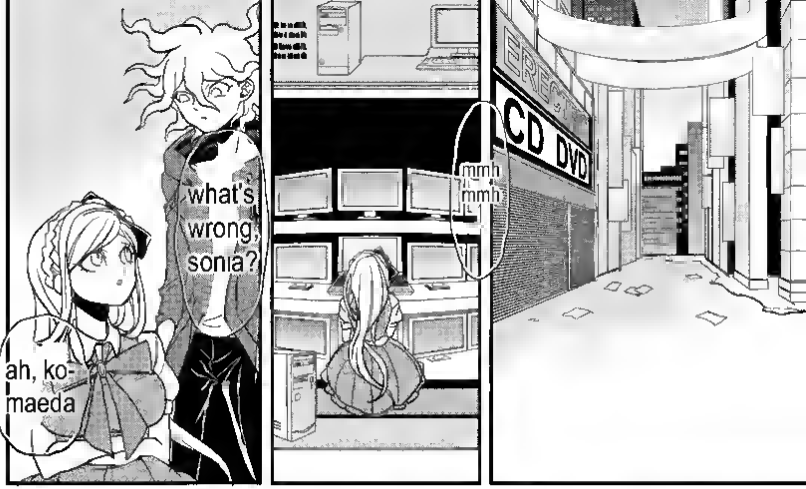
stop saying those things!

ハァン
.....



what's wrong, sonia?
ah, ko-maeda
mmh mmh
CD DVD

it's very difficult
but it seems we can't i've found some computers which haven't run out of battery yet if we managed to connect to the internet, we could call for help

oh?
then i'll take a look in the electronics store neaby
it can't be helped
it makes sense there's no way we could connect so easily

"usami X file"...
monomi X file
is something wrong?
no... i've just found a weird file here
monomi X file
Most Despair
History of the writing is formal it looks like a sort of report.
this...

but no matter what we did, we weren't able to stop them from unconditionlly destroying everything they weren't destroying with no reason... they were following a precise evil plan.. that's why it was utterly despair inducting the high school peak of hope, center of the world with a long history, now announces that the survivin■ stud■nts ar■ forced to kill each oth■r in a despair ■■■ the rest is garbled, i can't read any further... this must be...
....a joke, right?

"the worst, most despair inducing incident in the history of mankind"?
the students of the preparatory school destroyed hope's peak academy?
lies... even if it's a prank, it's not something one should joke about!
that's true! that's an important screen! you guys have to think about it carefully!
mono-kuma..!
there should be a limit to how bad a joke can be

i've heard about the preapratory school komaeda, you think that's something i made up ...?
this... can't be true ...
but... what i'd like to ask is when you say "surviving students"... are you referring to us...?
"normal people with no talent" revolting against "the embodiments of hope"... no matter how you look at it, it's just a farce they're different from the true "shsl students". those are just people with no talent who coulnd't be accepted through normal ways. in other words, they're second class students, right?
